

ROYAL TYRRELL MUSEUM

2009/10 Amenities

OVERVIEW

The Royal Tyrrell Museum is in the heart of the Canadian badlands, located 6 km northwest of Drumheller in Midland Provincial Park. The building covers more than 11,200 m² (120,000 sq.ft.) with more than 4,400 m² (45,000 sq.ft.) devoted to displays.

PARKING

Parking is free of charge. Spaces are designed for cars/trucks, recreation vehicles, buses and motorcycles.

AUDIO GUIDES

Audio Guides are available for rent in English, French, German, Spanish, Japanese and Dutch.

ACCESSIBILITY

Museum exhibits and indoor programs are accessible by wheelchairs and strollers, available for rent at a nominal fee.

FOOD SERVICES

The cafeteria, with seating for 150, offers grilled selections, snacks and refreshments. In the summer, visitors can enjoy their meals on the patio, surrounded by the scenic badlands or at the picnic area located on the southeast corner of the Museum grounds.

GIFT SHOP

Operated by the Royal Tyrrell Museum Cooperating Society, the Gift Shop specialises in apparel, giftware, souvenirs and books, and features exclusive lines of logowear and books produced by the Royal Tyrrell Museum. All proceeds from sales help to support the Museum's exhibits, research and educational activities.

HIKING TRAILS

You set the pace when you walk the trails of Midland Provincial Park. Explore the badlands on your own along a special self-guided interpretive path near the Royal Tyrrell Museum. With an approximate walking time of 50 minutes, the 1.4 km lookout trail features interpretive signs describing points of interest.
